

Daffodil
International University

ASSIGNMENT

Course Code: AOL101

Course Title: Art of Living

Topic Name: Long term activity

Submitted To

Name: Abdullah Al Mamun

Designation: Senior Lecturer

Department of CSE

Daffodil International University

Submitted By

Name: Tahmid Ibne Mofazzol

ID: 251-15-548

Section: 68_A

Semester: Summer 2026

Department of CSE

Daffodil International University

Date of Submission: 17/08/2026

Index:

1. Objectives
2. Motivation
3. My Achievement
4. Impact on my personal life
5. Conclusion

Long-Term Activity Report: 30-Day Digital Discipline Challenge: Staying Away from Pornography

Objectives

The main objective of this long-term activity was to practice self-discipline by avoiding pornography for 30 consecutive days. I wanted to understand whether controlling this particular digital habit could improve my ability to manage impulses and make more conscious decisions about how I spend my time.

The specific objectives were:

- To develop stronger self-control and discipline.
- To reduce unnecessary exposure to adult content.
- To become more aware of my online habits and triggers.
- To use my free time in more productive ways.
- To improve my ability to resist short-term impulses.
- To develop a healthier and more intentional relationship with digital media.

Motivation

My main motivation for choosing this activity was the desire to challenge myself and test my ability to maintain a personal commitment for an extended period. In today's digital environment, adult content can be easily accessed, so avoiding it for 30 days required conscious effort and discipline.

I also wanted to understand how changing one personal habit could affect my daily routine, concentration, and overall mindset. Rather than simply setting a goal for a few days, I chose a 30-day period because it would give me enough time to observe my behavior and develop better control over my choices.

Another motivation was to prove to myself that I could set a personal boundary and follow it consistently. The activity was therefore not only about avoiding a particular type of content but also about developing discipline that could be applied to other areas of my life.

My Achievement

I successfully completed the 30-day challenge without watching pornography. Completing the activity gave me a sense of accomplishment because it required consistency and conscious decision-making throughout the entire period.

One of my biggest achievements was becoming more aware of the situations and habits that could lead me toward unnecessary online content. Instead of automatically following an impulse, I became more capable of recognizing it and choosing a different activity.

The experience also showed me that achieving a long-term goal does not always require a dramatic change. Small decisions made repeatedly over 30 days can eventually lead to meaningful personal improvement.

Most importantly, I gained confidence in my ability to control my own habits. Completing the challenge demonstrated that I can set a personal goal, remain committed to it, and complete it through consistent effort.

Steps That I Took to Stay Away from Pornography

To successfully complete the 30-day challenge, I took several practical steps to avoid situations and habits that could lead me toward pornography. The main steps I followed were:

- Cleaning My Social Media
- Avoiding unnecessary attention toward girls when going outside
- Getting closer to Allah
- Joining gym
- Keeping myself busy with productive activities
- Reducing unnecessary phone and internet use

Impact on My Personal Life

This activity had a positive impact on my personal life, particularly in terms of self-discipline and awareness. I became more conscious of how I use my free time and how easily digital content can become a distraction.

The challenge also encouraged me to redirect my attention toward more productive activities. Instead of spending time on content that was not contributing to my personal goals, I became more intentional about how I used my time.

Another important impact was psychological rather than simply behavioral. Completing the challenge gave me a stronger sense of self-control. I learned that having an urge or temptation does not mean that I have to act on it. I can pause, recognize the impulse, and make a deliberate decision.

The experience also taught me that personal improvement is an ongoing process. Completing 30 days is an achievement, but maintaining healthy digital habits requires continued awareness and discipline.

Conclusion

The 30-day challenge of avoiding pornography was a valuable long-term activity that helped me develop greater self-discipline, self-awareness, and control over my digital habits. The experience showed me that changing a personal habit requires commitment, consistency, and the ability to make conscious choices.

Through this activity, I learned that discipline is not simply about avoiding something; it is also about choosing how to use my time and attention. Completing the challenge increased my confidence in my ability to set personal goals and follow them.

Overall, the activity was a meaningful personal development experience. It helped me become more aware of my habits and encouraged me to continue developing healthier and more productive routines in my daily life.